9List

Location-aware Shopping List

9List is a shopping list. If that doesn't sound interesting, it's because you're used to shopping lists being primitive and boring utilities to make your life just a little easier.

We wanted to change that.

Our app implements a novel approach to managing your shopping list by remembering what you wanna buy and where you wanna buy it, grouping items by category and using real-time location triggers to remind you exactly at the right moment.

Are you interested now?

We will release 9List on October 15th on the AppStore and it will be available for free.

Advanced features like adding multiple shop locations and sharing of shopping lists are available as a small one-time fee that unlocks everything. And the best part: It's likely to be cheaper than the first item on your shopping list!
